Accounts for the project

RRF Oslo uses a separate template for project accounts, which can be downloaded from this page (see box).

In general, we follow the same accounting standard and practice for accounting as the Research Council of Norway. Guidelines for calculating payroll and indirect expenses can be found here.

We have also shared an excel sheet with an example of how to calculate payroll and indirect expenses.

RRF Oslo invites our grant holders to a short course in project accounting approximately twice a year. The presentation from the course can be downloaded from our Norwegian website.
